FOREIGN COMMERCE.

Interesting Statement from the Treasury Department

ISSUED FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE.

Not Only the Trade With All Other Nations Considered but Also Properly Handled by the State Department. Other Dispatches from the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The bureau of statistics of the treasury department has issued its statement of foreign commerce and immigration for the month of June, 1891. In this statement there is also a review of the commerce of the United States during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1891. There is much valuable information in this statement, as it covers not only our trade with other nations during the twelve months, but gives, also, a comparison of the imports and exports of the past nine months, during which the new tariff law has been in effect, as compared with the corresponding nine months of the prior year.

It will appear that there has been a large and gratifying increase of the last fiscal year when compared with that of 1890. The total value of the commerce of the past fiscal year was the greatest in the history of the government, and exceeded the total value of the commerce of 1890 by the sum of $82,191,830. The commerce of 1890 was the largest for any year in the history of the government up to that time, exceeding the commerce of the prior year by the sum of $159,606,066, so that the value of the total commerce of the last fiscal year exceeded the total value of the commerce of 1889 by $241,797,869. Our total commerce during the past fiscal year amounted to $1,729,330,396.

It is noted that there is an increase in our imports of merchandise, in the order of magnitude, the following articles: Coffee, tin-plate, hides and skin, fruits, chemicals and drugs, India rubber and gutta percha, sugar and molasses, etc. There has been a decline in the value of our imports of wool and manufactures of silk and manufactures of hemp and jute and manufactures of breadstuffs, and animals.

The total value of our imports of merchandise during the last year was $844,905,491. The total value of our merchandise during the same period, was $884,425,405, which shows an excess in favor of exports during the fiscal year of $39,519,914. There was, also, an excess of exports of domestic merchandise over such exports of the previous year of $26,041,737. The increase in exports has been the following articles, stated in order of magnitude of increase: Raw cotton, provisions, refined sugar, cotton manufacturers, copper and manufactures of iron and steel.

The value of the leading articles of exports from the United States during the past year was as follows: Cotton, $290,708,898; breadstuffs, $127,668,092; provisions, $138,176,638.

Since the new tariff law has been in operation, from Oct. 6, 1890, to June 30, 1891, inclusive, the total value of merchandise was $630,206,005, as compared with $598,769,905, the value of such exports for the corresponding period of 1890, which shows an excess for the nine months of 1891 of $31,436,100.

The value of the imports of merchandise admitted free of duty during the nine months ending June 30, 1891, was $295,963,665, while the value of such imports for the corresponding period of 1890 was $208,983,873, showing an increase in the imports of free merchandise during the past nine months of $86,979,797. During the same period ending June 30, 1891, the imports of merchandise paying duty was the value of $334,242,340, as compared with $389,786,032 for the corresponding period of 1890, so that it appears there has been a decrease during the last nine months of the fiscal year 1891 in the value of such imports of $55,543,692.

It will be seen then that, during the nine months since the new tariff went into effect, of the total value of merchandise imported into this country 46.96 per cent. came in free, while during the corresponding period of 1890, 34.92 per cent. was admitted free. In fact, it appears that the value of merchandise imported free during the last nine months of the past fiscal year was greater by $30,000,000 than the value of such merchandise admitted during the whole of 1890, and by nearly $40,000,000 more than during the prior year, 1889.

The exports of gold and silver during the last fiscal year were $108,729,288, and the imports were $36,212,334, an excess of exports of $72,516,954. The exports of gold during the last fiscal year were $86,363,622. The imports of gold were $18,246,512, showing an excess of exports of gold of $68,117,110, the largest excess of exports of gold in any year of our commerce.

There has been a large increase in the volume of immigration into the United States during the last fiscal year.

The total number arriving was 555,496, as against 451,219 during fiscal year 1890, showing an increase during the last fiscal year of 103,277. This increase is largely from the following countries: Italy, 23,354; Austria-Hungary, 14,861; Germany, 21,122; Russia, including Poland, 28,245.

Republican Executive Committee.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Republican national executive committee will meet at the Arlington hotel, in this city, today. The meeting was to have been held in Philadelphia, but a change of plan was decided on and several members of the committee did not know until yesterday afternoon that they were to meet here. If Mr. Quay insists upon retiring it is supposed that Clarkson will be chosen chairman, and either Fessenden or Mr. Payne will succeed Clarkson as vice chairman. Omaha is early to the front with a bid for the national convention. Col. C. R. Scott is on hand with authority to present the claims of that city. He says that Omaha is going to do all she can to get the convention.

Those members of the committee who are trying to prevent Mr. Quay's retirement have raised the question of the right of the executive committee to accept his resignation as chairman. They say that he was chosen chairman of the national committee, and is chairman of the executive committee by virtue of the other chairmanship; that is, that he is chairman ex officio of the executive committee and must remain so as long as he is chairman of the national committee. If this idea prevails at the meeting today Mr. Quay will not be able to retire until after the national convention has met and organized, which will be some time next fall.

His Actions Approved.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Commissioner Morgan, of the Indian bureau, is constantly receiving communications from all classes of people, irrespective of politics or religion, congratulating him upon his refusal to have any further business relations with the Catholic bureau of Indian missions, which was, by an order of the commissioner severed last week. These communications are from religious dignitaries as well as prominent people of both parties, urging him to maintain the position he has taken on the question. The commissioner is highly gratified in consequence, and is more than ever of the opinion that the order was just and will have beneficial effects. The commissioner said yesterday that he had received no information in regard to the conference between the president and Cardinal Gibbons, but he was sure that the president and the people approved his action.

Census of Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The census office yesterday issued a bulletin which shows that the number of prisoners in the county jails during the census year was 19,538; the number reported in 1880 was 12,691, an increase in ten years of 6,847, or at the rate of 53.95 per cent. The increase in the total population was 24.86 per cent. In 1880 the ratio of prisoners in county jails to the population was 253 in 1,000,000; in 1890 it was 312. The increase, therefore, has been fifty-nine to 1,000,000. The largest increase has been in the north Atlantic division, where it was ninety-five to 1,000,000.

Following the tables is a list of counties in the United States reported as having no prisoners in their jails on June 1, 1890, and also a list of counties reported as having no jails.

New Officials.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Daniel Macaulay, of Indiana, has been appointed chief of the appointment division, treasury department, to succeed J. K. Moore, resigned; and Mr. F. Stocks of Kansas, has been appointed chief clerk of the treasury department to succeed Major Brackett, resigned. The newly appointed officials will assume their new duties about Sept. 1 next, when Major Brackett will go abroad as the treasury department world's fair commissioner and Mr. Moore will go to Chicago as chief clerk of construction of the government world's fair building there.

Chilian Insurgents Confident.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Representatives of the Chilian insurgents here assert that Vallenar and all the Huasco valley are in the possession of the insurgents, or constitutional government. Balmaceda, they assert is without money, and having failed to negotiate recently a loan in Europe, has endeavored to secure one in this country, but has failed in this.

Leading Politician Dead.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—A private cable dispatch received here from Colon, on the Isthmus of Panama, announces the death of William E. Sims, of Virginia, United States consul at that port. He was a leading Republican politician of his state, and figured as the central target of the Danville riot of 1883.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION.

Mrs. Flora Adams Darling Bounced by the Board of Managers.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—There is trouble among the ladies of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and it has resulted in the removal from office of Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, the authoress, vice president in charge of the organization of chapters. At a recent meeting the national board of management, among whose members are the wives of President Harrison, Justice Field, General Greeley, ex-Minister Foster and Senator Cockrell, the following resolution was adopted unanimously.

WHEREAS, Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, vice president in charge of the chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has refused to recognize the authority of the national board of management; and to report her action to the same, and has forbidden the use of her name, and threatened the board with legal proceedings, and has declared in writing that her relations with the board are ended, and has represented the board as being her appointees and subject to her direction, and has charged members of the board with being engaged in conspiring against her, and has persistently attempted to discredit the authority of the board with the members of the society; now,

THEREFORE, The national board of management, believing that the best interests of the society demand her removal from office, declares that Mrs. Flora Adams Darling is removed from the office of vice president in charge of the organization of chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and that said office is thereby declared vacant.

Mrs. Harrison was not present when the resolution was adopted.

Monday the board issued a circular letter giving in detail the charges contained in the resolution.

THE ELLIOTT JURY.

After Days of Deliberation They Bring in a Verdict.

MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE

The Long Anxious Wait at Last Brought to a Close—Exciting Scenes in the Court Room During the Last Hours of the Trial—How the Prisoner Received His Sentence.

COLUMBUS, O., July 29.—The long, anxious wait of the Elliott jury is at an end. At 10:20 yesterday the jury filed into the court room and announced that William J. Elliott had been found guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Albert C. Osborne on the 2d of February last. The verdict is no surprise; as the long wait of the twelve men in their room had given out the impression that there was some doubt as to the grade of the crime and that if there was not some disagreement the verdict would be as rendered.

Judge Pugh arrived at the court house about 9 o'clock, and as he received no advice that the jury was ready to report to him, he repaired to his private room to await their call. General Powell, Colonel Taylor and Captain Barger, counsel for the defense, arrived a few minutes before 10 o'clock, and after lingering a few minutes in the corridor, entered the court room and took their accustomed positions in front of the judge's bench. Just after them entered Judge Pugh, and coming to the door called out to Doorkeeper Wilson, who was back in the room, presumably to have him prepare to resist the rush of the great mob out in the corridors.

The next instant Sheriff Custer, Deputies Ross and Carpenter entered and took positions over where the prisoner sat, thus adding new evidence that the jury was ready to come down. A minute or two later Mrs. W. J. Elliott and children, Miss Maroney, her sister, and Mr. Maroney, her brother, came in. At 10:19 Jailer Marvin Custer entered through the closed passageway from the jail with the prisoner. W. J. Elliott wore a look of intense anxiety and appeared somewhat nervous. While waiting for the jury to be brought in he held an earnest conversation with his attorneys. He was holding his youngest boy on his knee when the jury filed into the box to make known the seal of fate which had been stamped upon his future life.

Judge Pugh entered and ascended to the bench at 10:20, and was closely followed by the jury. The crowd in the corridor made a scramble to gain admission to the already packed court room, and there was no breathing room scarcely when a couple of hundred more persons squeezed in. All being ready, Judge Pugh directed Criminal Clerk Mitchell to call the roll, and this being done Judge Pugh inquired if they had agreed on a verdict, which brought out the response from Foreman Pegg, "we have." Judge Pugh then asked that the verdict be handed up, which was done. Judge Pugh held the verdict in his left hand and drew the entry in the criminal docket. As he handed the verdict to Clerk Mitchell to be read, he admonished the audience not to indulge in any demonstrations.

The suspense of the great crowd was intense while Clerk Mitchell read the preliminary lines of the verdict. When that point was reached where the verdict read, "We, the jury, etc., find the defendant, W. J. Elliott, Miss Nellie Maroney screamed out and fell back in her brother's arms in a faint, she evidently expected the next words would be "guilty of murder in the first degree." Clerk Mitchell paused for a few seconds and then went on to read "not guilty of murder in the first degree, but do find him guilty of murder in the second degree." When these words were spoken Elliott pulled his Grand Army button from the buttonhole in the lapel of his coat and threw it viciously at the jury. Instead of weakening, W. J. Elliott grew more revengeful, and his face took on a look of wildest anger. Mrs. Elliott did not shed a tear, but the excitement was so great that she probably could not realize at the time what the verdict meant. The children all began to cry when Mrs. Maroney fainted.

The scene was a most heart-rending one, and brought tears to the eyes of Foreman Pegg, while the other members of the jury bowed their heads in mournful silence. When the jury was polled, and each in turn were asked if "the verdict just read was their verdict." Claude C. Aubert responded, "yes, sir," in a stronger, firmer voice than any of the other jurors, thus indicating that he has stood from the first for murder in the second degree. The jury have vowed that they will never disclose how they stood on any of the ballots, and thus it will probably never be positively known who the dissenters were.

Gang of Toughs Run In.

BUFFALO, July 29.—About 8 o'clock Sunday night Sohia Semidua, a Polish girl, who has been in this country a little over a week, left her home at East Buffalo to go up town. On her return she lost her way and met a man who offered to show her home. When they reached the corner of Van Rensselaer and Perry streets, a gang of six young toughs jumped on them and took the girl away and carried her into the Lehigh yard and outraged her in a terrible manner. The police yesterday succeeded in capturing the entire gang.

Found Mortally Wounded on the Track.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 29.—An unknown man about twenty years old, was found with his skull fractured on the Central track at Churchville, yesterday. He is at the city hospital and will die. It is thought that he jumped from a train.

A STATE DECEASED.

Over a Quarter of a Million Dollars Due the State of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 29.—The governor still refuses to give out for publication the report of John W. Coons, who investigated the frauds which have been perpetrated against the state at Washington, but it is now known that he made sensational discoveries and unearthed some $300,000 which was conceded to be due the state. While in Washington he discovered the most glaring frauds in connection with the settlements of Indiana war claims, many of the vouchers being duplicated as many as four times in favor of men who have held prominent positions in this state and in the country. One voucher in favor of a well known physician for $53.70 was raised to $5,370 and paid.

The governor is believed to be withholding the report on account of the prominent men who figure in it. The governor was asked, of course, if he had discovered that the state had been defrauded out of $300,000, and replied: "Well, I can't say that that is the amount exactly, but it is an enormous one."

If the claims of the state for war tax, interest and national road affairs were paid, the amount in total would not be less than $1,000,000.

AT CAPE MAY.

Doings of the President During Saturday and Sunday.

CAPE MAY, N. J., July 29.—The president has appointed Alexander O. D. Taylor to be commissioner of deeds in the state of Rhode Island for the District of Columbia, and Charles A. Geschiedt the same in the state of New York.

The president has also appointed Charles E. Adams to be alternate commissioner to the world's fair from the state of Massachusetts.

General John W. Foster, ex-minister to Spain, and Thomas C. Ridler, of the state department, called upon the president in reference to the progress of reciprocity.

In the afternoon 200 Odd Fellows from Delaware were received at Shoreham.

The president accompanied Secretary Tracy to the station in the afternoon on his departure for Washington. Colonel William Crook, disbursing clerk of the White House, and Cardinal Gibbons also left.

Warned to Leave, and Left.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 29.—William Disney, a drug clerk, received notice Monday night to leave the city on account of cruel treatment to his family, the writer declaring that if he were here last night he would be tarred and feathered. The police went to the house yesterday morning with a view to preventing the neighbors' threatened violence and found Disney packing up preparatory to leaving. By chance the police discovered several bottles of whisky, several boxes of cigars and a shawl strap in the woodshed. The things had been stolen from the drug-gist, but the latter refused to prosecute provided Disney would leave at once. He left.

Not Thought Guilty.

OIL CITY, Pa., July 29.—The case of Samuel Wayman, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Emory Thayer, in Livingston county, N. Y., has aroused considerable interest here. Wayman came to this place about three months before his arrest. He made no attempt to disguise either his name or himself and did not in any way act like a fugitive from justice. He obtained work as a carpenter and conducted himself in a becoming manner. He was so employed when arrested. People here who know Wayman are of the decided opinion that he is not guilty of the crime with which he is charged.

Freight Trains Collide.

ALLIANCE, O., July 29.—The second section of freight train No. 83, west-bound, and local freight No. 70, east-bound, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway collided with a terrible crash, near Salem, O., late Tuesday afternoon. Two engines and eleven cars of freight were demolished. Several members of the crews were severely injured but none fatally. A tramp, who was stealing a ride on No. 83, is missing. It is believed that he is buried under the debris. Probably twenty-four hours will be required in clearing the tracks. The destruction of property is very great.

Shoe Factory Burned.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 29.—The factory of the Felter Shoe company, on Livingston avenue, together with its contents, was burned yesterday; also two houses belonging to the Willow Grove Cemetery association. The house and stable of Dr. C. M. Slack were badly damaged, and a number of other houses slightly damaged. The loss on the factory is placed at $40,000; insurance, $27,000. Dr. Slack's loss is $2,500, and other losses reach about $3,000 more.

Over the Right of Way.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 29.—The Belt Line and Kentucky Union railroads are at war again. Last night the former's forces tore up a portion of the latter's track, the dispute being over a right of way for which both are contending. Today the Belt Line people, armed with shotguns, are in possession of the disputed territory, and if any attempt is made to rebuild the track there will be bloodshed. The Kentucky Union is reported to have sent for a carload of mountaineers. If this proves true there will certainly be trouble.

Struck by Lightning and Burned.

GARDINER, Me., July 29.—The house of James A. Norton, about four miles from here, was last night struck by lightning and burned. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $2,000.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
JOHN YOUNG BROWN.
For Lieutenant Governor,
M. C. ALFORD.
For Attorney General,
W. J. HENDRICK.
For Auditor,
L. C. NORMAN.
For Treasurer,
H. S. HALE.
For Register of Land Office,
G. B. SWANGO.
For Superintendent Public Instruction,
E. PORTER THOMPSON.
For Clerk of Court of Appeals,
ABRAM ADDAMS.
For Representative,
DR. JOHN M. FRAZEE.

The new Constitution provides for a secret ballot. Vote for it next Monday.

MASON COUNTY ought to roll up not less than 600 majority next Monday for John Young Brown and the rest of the Democratic ticket.

The elections this year will have an important bearing on next year's contest. Kentucky Democrats should do their whole duty next Monday.

REPUBLICANS will be found voting their straight ticket next Monday. Democrats should not allow themselves to be drawn off by the Third party.

The new Constitution makes taxation uniform and will equalize the burdens of the State, county and municipal governments. Vote for it next Monday.

It is believed by many that the so-called People's party speakers now in Kentucky were brought here by the Republicans. No Democrat should be led astray.

When the taxpayers begin to contribute $15,000,000 a year in bounties to sugar-growers, as they must do next year under the McKinley law, "free sugar" will be at least one-third sham, asserts the new York World.

ERWIN, the People's party nominee for Governor, played into the hands of the Louisville Warehouse Trust last winter and worked against the tobacco growers. He was deposed from the Presidency of the State Alliance for this. Is there any farmer fool enough to support him?

AFTER a careful, personal investigation and study of the question, Congressmen James B. McCreary and W. C. P. Breckinridge and ex-Congressman Boyd Winchester, have, within the last ten days, announced themselves in favor of the new Constitution, and are giving substantial reasons for their position. Vote for it next Monday.

It took one hundred and sixty-three boxes of tin to roof the new amphitheater at the fair grounds. The increase in the cost of this tin by reason of the passage of the McKinley bill was $2.69 a box, making the roof cost the company about $435 more than it would have cost them had the bill never been passed. Still, the Republicans say "the tariff is not a tax."

Among the many good things in the new Constitution, the Union County Local enumerates the following: "The new Constitution brings under taxation $11,000,000 of railroad property hitherto exempt, adding $47,000 in taxes to the State treasury; it abolishes over 1,000 unnecessary officials, and very possibly does away with the system of the people having to pay the pro tem Circuit Judge and the regular Judge also. It also prohibits any official's salary from being raised and taking effect while he is in office." Vote for it next Monday.

A Circular from Colonel Castleman.
Colonel Castleman, Chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee, has sent the following letter to Democratic county committee chairmen:

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 27, 1891.

Dear Sir: I have the pleasure to advise you that the Central Committee has sent this day, either by express or mail, to every precinct committee man or Chairman of County Committee an ample supply of State tickets to be used on the 3d day of August. It is necessary that these be posted at each voting precinct by 6 o'clock on the morning of the day of election, and the precinct committees are held responsible for the performance of this duty.

"The Central Committee has the pleasure to ask that you will utilize the organization of the party throughout the State to the protection of the party's interests, and see to it that the emissaries of the Republicans sent into Kentucky have no such influence as will divert the party's strength by going off either after any new party movement or false issue.

"From most of the counties in the State there is not one particle of reason for apprehension. In a few only, evidence comes that the Democrats have for the time being lost their heads.

"I trust, however, that everything will be all right on the 3d day of August, and asking that you will give that day solely to the interests of the party, I have the honor to be, dear Sir, very truly yours,
JOHN B. CASTLEMAN, Chairman.

DOINGS IN ROBERTSON.

Notes and Personals by the Bulletin's Mt. Olivet Correspondent.

Correspondence of the BULLETIN.

MT. OLIVET, July 28, 1891.
Miss Laran B. Demaree, of Campton, Wolf County, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Dr. P. D. Linville and wife, G. L. Linville and J. T. Newin are in the city.

Rev. John Hester, who has charge of a church in Canada, is at home for a short stay, and is conducting a meeting at Corinth, this county.

L. J. Crawford, Republican candidate for Attorney General, spoke to a fair-sized audience Monday. He expressed himself confident of his party's success; argued at some length on State and National politics and favored the new Constitution.

Judge Deming left for Kansas Monday, where he expects to dispose of some of his possessions. About the time of the "Kansas fever" the Judge's eye to business opened, and he purchased several hundred acres, for a trifling sum, and began to improve it. He has since sold some but has a large tract left, and recently received an offer from parties in Kansas which, if accepted, will realize him a profit of about $5,000.

At Kenton's grove, Saturday, a game of base ball was played between the Berlin's, of Bracken County, and our home club, which resulted in a victory for our club. The Berlin's came up in great shape, handsomely uniformed and expressed themselves as able to "shut out" our boys. Quite the reverse. Olivet's had the lead from the start and in coming to the bat in the ninth inning the score showed the Olivet's to be the victors, and Berlin tossed the sponge.

Misses Nettie Robinson and Carrie Mann, of Carlisle, after a visit of two weeks with their aunt, Mrs. Rosa Buckler, returned home Monday. The members of the M. E. Church, through your correspondent, desire to express their thanks to the young ladies for the kindness they showed in assisting the choir—Miss Robinson, as organist, in the absence of the regular organist Miss Carrie Buckler, and Miss Mann with her sweet soprano. Miss Robinson is especially accomplished in music, being a graduate of Louisville and receiving a beautiful medal in award for the best degree of her class. Sunday night a beautiful quartette was rendered by them, assisted by some of our home talent.

RUGGLES.

Improvements to the Grounds—The People Gathering in for the Meeting.

Correspondence of the BULLETIN.

RUGGLES' CAMP GROUNDS, July 30, 1891.

We are on the old camp grounds once more, and each year it puts on new beauties and attractions. This year the old rail fence has been torn away and a neat, new paling fence put in its stead.

The preachers have been especially remembered in the building of a beautiful two-story cottage with a neat veranda in front, so that they will be made as comfortable here as at home.

Brother Boring held prayer meeting in the children's chapel last night, and all turned out. It was a pleasing service, and will be continued until the regular service in the tabernacle.

Those present on the grounds at this time are: Elder Boring and family, I. M. Lane's family, John Walsh and family, Mrs. William Hamilton and daughters, Mrs. Theo. Lowrey and daughter, Lida, Mrs. Cady and Walter Cady and wife, Mrs. James Hefflin and her family, Mrs. Jane Morris, Mrs. William Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. John Crane, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. Blair from Tilton, Ky.; Claud Pollitt and Charles Verooy and Bland Muse. To-day and to-morrow will see a great coming in of the people.

Letter List.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the postoffice at Maysville, Mason County, Ky., for the week ending Tuesday, July 28, 1891:

Bishop, John
Bracken, William
Clutter, Aaron
Collins, Mrs. Rose
Comer, Jerry
Cook, Miss Bettie
Coleman, P.
Cornelius, Miss Cora
Dora, M. O. (2)
Duffley, Miss Violet
Eldredge & Higgins.

County Court.

A report was filed showing that 315 rods of the Maple turnpike had been completed, measured and received, and the Treasurer of the county was ordered to pay said company $1,385, the county's subscription to same.

An inventory and appraisal of the personal estate of John W. Watson, deceased, was filed and ordered recorded. The appraisal amounts to $22,527.67.

Geo. M. Deiner, a native of Germany, took the required oath and was declared a citizen of the United States.

A Native of Mason.

John C. Elrod, the pioneer photographer of Louisville who died a few days ago, was a native of this county. When fifteen years old he was left an orphan and penniless. He boarded a boat and worked his way to New Orleans, and on the way learned to take daguerrotypes from an old Frenchman that he fell in with. He settled first in Lexington, and afterward in Louisville in 1850. He amassed a comfortable fortune.

AT REST.

Poor girl!
Fold her hands, cross her feet,
Leave her to her slumber sweet;
She hath earned it well.
Every day for many years
Cause had she for bitter tears,
And they daily fell.

See the hollows in her cheek,
Marks of woe she could not speak;
See her sunken eye,
Worn and wasted is her frame,
None too soon her slumber came;
Touch her tenderly.

Hard as iron was her fate;
Life for her was desolate,
Full of yearnings vain.
Sympathy and loving care
Fell not to poor Mary's share,
Wake her not again.

All she trusted faithless proved,
Every creature that she loved
Shortly changed, or died.
Good it is for her to rest,
Seldom, sure, was human breast
More severely tried.

Often has she slept before,
Dreaming woe was hers no more,
Life and sorrow past;
But from such delusive sleep
Ever more she woke to weep—
Peace is hers at last.

Poor girl!
True and tender hearted one;
Hard it was that death alone
Comfort had for her.
Fold her hands, cross her feet,
Lay her, robed all white and sweet,
In the sepulchre.

Augusta Moore in New York Mail and Express.

Thought He Knew Every One.

Tom Fletcher had the good fortune to be born in County Kildare, Ireland, and to emigrate to New York at ten years of age. At twenty-five he had attained a six foot physique, a big black beard and a clerkship in "uptown postoffice station Q."

Looking through the little brass bars of the general delivery one day he saw approaching Mr. Barney McGuffin, a fine old Irish gentleman he had known in boyhood. The old man was unchanged, but the boy had outgrown Mr. McGuffin's remembrance.

"I dunno, is it too late fur t' stamer t' day?" said the old man as he poked a letter through the bars for "The Widow O'Brien, Curragh of Kildare, Kildare county, Ireland."

"An' is this to de Widde O'Brien that lives on d' Ballywink road?" said Tom in his best brogue.

"An' how the divil did you know she lived on d' Ballywink road?"

"That would Oi be doin' in de post orfus af Oi didn't know the Widde O'Brien lived on d' Ballywink road? Git away from d' windy now; you've had y'r toime."

And the old man was frequently seen to stop on the sidewalk and gaze with awe and wonder at the man "what knowed ivybody in Oireland."—Dry Goods Chronicle.

The Poet Riley and Mrs. Wilcox.

"Can you recall more than a single instance of a man of letters marrying a literary wife?" asked a Chicago writer the other day. "Browning? Yes. I know another instance which comes pretty near it. I do not think the fact is generally known, but James Whitcomb Riley, in the earlier days of his literary career, was a most ardent admirer of Ella Wheeler, the poetess of passion, and a favored suitor for her hand.

"Both the young people were poor, however, and neither had attained a national reputation at that time, although both had written some very charming specimens of verse. I do not know whether Ella ever intended to marry the young Hoosier poet or not, but I do know that young Riley was nearly heartbroken when their cordial relations were sundered."—Chicago Mail.

High Sheriff Benjamin Disraeli.

An Irish antiquarian has discovered that the "Benjamin D'Israeli, Esq.," who was high sheriff of the county of Carlow in 1810 was an uncle of Lord Beaconsfield. He is buried in St. Peter's church, Dublin, having died in 1814, aged forty-eight. This Benjamin, of whom none of the writers on Lord Beaconsfield appears to have known anything whatever, left a large fortune, and his will, which is preserved in the Dublin record office, is signed "Benjamin D'Israeli." Lord Beaconsfield once wrote asking for a copy of his uncle's will, but neither his name nor his father's appears in the document. Benjamin D'Israeli the elder was only the half brother of the author of the "Curiosities of Literature."—London Truth.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

F. S. Verbeck, who represents the type foundry of Messrs. Barnhardt Bros. & Spindler, Chicago, says: "On my return home from a trip I found our little girl sick with summer complaint. I went to a drug store and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We gave her a few doses according to directions. She recovered in a short time and we were well pleased with the medicine." For sale by Power & Reynolds.

A SPECIAL train of five cars constructed entirely of steel are on exhibition at the Chicago and Northern Pacific Passenger Station in Chicago. This is looked upon by some as the first sign of a revolution in railway car building. It is claimed the cars neither cost nor weigh more than the old style, while being practically indestructible by fire or in a wreck.

RELATIVE to the sale of the Carter caves, in Carter County, to a New York firm for $50,000, the Lexington Gazette says: "It need not surprise you to hear of Carter figuring in the history as the most noted county in the State. She has the largest natural bridge known to man, the greatest and most extensive caves yet discovered, not excepting the Mammoth Cave and Natural Bridge, of Virginia. She has fine grazing land, especially adapted to the grazing of sheep. The veins in iron ore here aggregate thirteen feet, and the fire-clay is from eight to fifteen feet. It is said to have the celebrated black band ore and promises in the near future to be one of the most valuable counties in the State. It seems that this county, thought to be worthless, is destined to become a great and wealthy land."

OLD WORLD COMING.

Foreign Countries to Be Represented at the World's Fair.

ENGLAND TAKES CERTAIN ACTION

How Our Committee Was Received in London—Great Britain in Perfect Harmony With the United States in Regard to Celebrating This Important Event. Other Dispatches from Over the Ocean.

LONDON, July 29.—The luncheon yesterday of the foreign committee of the Columbian fair commission was most gratifying in the evidence of cordial British interest in the fair. The British guests included a host of celebrities, and every member of the royal commission was present. Major Butterworth presided. The president of the United States and the queen were duly toasted amid much enthusiasm.

Major Butterworth and Messrs. Peck and Handy spoke in grateful terms of the hospitality with which the committee had been received and explained the objects of the fair. Minister Lincoln, who was frequently interrupted by applause, related how cordially Lord Salisbury had met his overtures on the subject of a proper representation of Great Britain at the fair. He was authorized to announce that any provision of American law bearing adversely on alien importations, that might be construed to operate against exhibitors, would be amended in such a way as to remove any such objection, and every facility would be extended to foreign exhibitors. Chicago, he said, had never yet failed in any public undertaking and never would.

The most significant speech of the evening was that of Viscount Cross, a member of the cabinet, as well as a trusted personal adviser of the queen. There is no doubt that the viscount spoke with authority from the cabinet. He said he wished to assure the committee in the strongest terms that Great Britain was heartily and entirely with the United States in this celebration and that everything within the ability of the government would be done to insure the best possible representation of the United Kingdom, of India and of the colonies. He promised the heartiest cooperation of the government. This utterance evoked great enthusiasm.

Cunliffe Owen said he was convinced that the Chicago fair would excel any previous undertaking of the kind. Therefore the Society of Arts was resolved to see Great Britain properly represented. Sir Richard Webster promised the heartiest assistance of England.

Mr. Gladstone wrote to Major Butterworth: "I cannot doubt that the exhibition will tend to materially advance commercial intercourse between nations and those sentiments of friendship which are the usual result. I hope that those who come after me will see the industrial glory of America freed from every fetter, and her unparalleled national resources turned to the best account."

Chauncey M. Depew wrote, wishing every success to the committee, and expressing his regrets that he could not be present.

Mr. Owen said that the importance of the presence and speech of the Viscount Cross could not be overestimated. It meant that the queen's government gave its full weight and influence to the fair. The committee will proceed to Paris in the morning, where various courtesies will be extended.

A Frightful Story.

LONDON, July 29.—A dispatch from Constantinople says the inquiry regarding the young English girl rescued from compulsory marriage to a Kurd, has brought to light the fact that a considerable number of young women from western Europe are detained in the harems of Asia Minor. The kidnapping of Russian women has been known for some time, and the Russian authorities on the frontier have pretended to take steps to put an end to the evil, although they are believed to be sharers in the profits of this female slave trade. Now, however, the startling allegations are induced to leave their homes in London and Paris and brought to the east to live as the wives of Turks, placed in harems for a lifetime.

It is known that the supply of female slaves from Africa and Asia has been much diminished of late, owing to the vigorous measures for the suppression of the slave trade, and the only objection that prevails against them going to western Europe for supply has been on the score of religion. There is little doubt that in many instances young European women have been induced, by agents acting in behalf of prominent Turks, to emigrate to Turkey and accept husbands of the Moslem faith. As long as no complaint reaches the outer world, the authorities are powerless to interfere.

The St. Mande Disaster.

PARIS, July 29.—Interest in the St. Mande railway horror is increased by the fact that the official inquiry has, up to this time, failed to establish clearly the real cause of the collision.

Seven more deaths have occurred, making fifty in all. The assistant station master at Vincennes and the driver of the second engine have been arrested on the charge of having contributed by carelessness to the collision.

The lady announced as being among the victims of the disaster was not the Marquise de Monteferrata. She was a Madame Blanchey or Blanchet, of New York.

Distress in India.

LONDON, July 29.—Latest reports from the northwest of India tell of beneficial rains having fallen there; still there is terrible distress in that region, which compels the government to vote large sums of money for the relief of the people. The object is to provide public works, etc., to give the men employment and provisions. The failures of the crops of cereals in India, France and Russia seem to be conspiring to throw a large demand for food stuffs upon America for the next twelve months.

SORE AT CURACOA

Because Firearms Have Been Smuggled Into the Island.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Several letters from Curacao arrived here on the last ship from that place. They differ from one another in details, but all agree in saying that the American barkentine Curacao, which sailed from New York on June 23 and arrived at Curacao July 12, had been seized on July 15 for trying to land ammunition at the chief port on the island, Willemstad.

One of the letters is dated July 17, and the writer says that the Dutch officials discovered that firearms and ammunition, such as revolvers, cartridges, etc., were stowed away on board. Every package of goods was immediately opened and examined by them, and at last one hundred large cases were found. The manifest is said by the correspondent to have called for "cases of soap," and he says also that a black peddler named Marina, who has since disappeared, is suspected of being implicated. A strong impression prevails in government circles at Curacao that the contraband articles were to be smuggled to Hayti. The barkentine has been towed to the powder magazine and is held by the government. The Curacao is a well known vessel.

She has a register of 369 tons and was built in Horton, Nova Scotia. She is now owned by Foulke & Company, New York. They received a letter from their agent at Willemstad yesterday. He confirms the story of the seizure of the vessel, but says there were only forty cases of powder aboard and no arms of any kind. A reporter had a talk with a member of the firm.

He said positively that they had no knowledge of the fact that contraband articles had been shipped, but that the captain whom they implicitly trusted up to the present time, must have known that the goods were aboard before the vessel started to unload. The restrictions on bringing powder or any kind of firearms into the island of Curacao without authority are so extremely strict that the consequences are likely to be unpleasant to the captain and others implicated if the offense is proved.

The penalty is imprisonment and a heavy fine. The Dutch, who own the island, adopted these stringent measures because years ago Curacao was a starting place for all sorts of expeditions to aid in revolutions in Venezuela and Hayti. The Dutch consul, John R. Platen, has received merely an official notification of the seizure.

Village Damaged by Fire.

ROME, N. Y., July 29.—A fire involving a loss of $25,000 on buildings and stock, half insured, occurred in the business part of Taberg early yesterday morning. The losers are Miss E. Tompkins, building and millinery; Peter Coyle, store and hotel; A. E. Hart, tin shop and dwelling; W. B. Graves, general store and building; W. C. Armstrong, store building, dwelling and barn; J. J. Dooley, general store. The whole village was threatened, and only hard fighting by a bucket brigade and hand pumps saved it.

Not as Dry as It Was.

FREMONT, O., July 29.—The entire city was without water Monday night. Indignation meetings were held all over the city. All endeavors to persuade June & French to repair the break were in vain. At a special meeting of council last night the men were enjoined from tearing up any more of the dam and a gang of workmen was sent to repair the break. A posse of policemen accompanied them. The work was completed in a few hours and the water supply is increasing slowly. It will be two more days before the supply is sufficient and much trouble is expected.

Objecting to Water.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 29.—The city council last night condemned the water furnished by the American Water company, and has ordered the city clerk to withhold further payments until the quality is improved. It is claimed that the water is not from the artesian wells, but from the river, and that it contains dangerous organic matter. It was also decided last night to light the city with electricity.

Escaped from Jail.

SALAMANCA, N. Y., July 29.—Patrick Sullivan, who was shot some weeks ago by Dr. Wilcox while attempting a burglary at the doctor's house, and who has occupied a cell on the second floor of the jail, recovering from his wound, made his escape early yesterday morning through an opening in the brick wall with a stove poker. A reward has been offered for his recapture.

Found After Four Weeks.

COLUMBUS, July 29.—About the 1st of July Joe Warner, an employee of the cerealine mills, this city, had one of his hands caught in the machinery and cut off, but the missing member could not be found. Yesterday a letter was received from Quakerstown, Pa., stating that a man's hand had been found in a load of cerealine shipped by the company to that point.

Indiana Bank Beaten.

MUNCIE, Ind., July 29.—Marshall Johnson, 24, yesterday passed a check for $2,180 on the Delaware County bank with the forged name of Bryan & Benbow, his former employers, and signed Tait. Johnson lives at Dayton, O., and has been here a year. The job done looks like that of a professional forger.

Ocean Steamer Wrecked.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 29.—A dispatch received here says the steamer Tiber is ashore at Bird Rocks and is a total wreck. She is bound to Montreal from Sydney, C. B., coal laden. The Tiber is owned by Archibald & Company, North Sydney, and is insured in Halifax.

Returning to Work.

SPRINGFIELD, O., July 29.—The Big Four strike is settled. Enough men went to work last night to work four yard engines, and a full force will go on today. The men go to work at the old wages except Geary and Knox, whom the company would not take back.

Crops Damaged by Hail.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 29.—A hail storm did much damage to crops in Kennebec county. Lightning injured a number of houses.
